Principles of Community
Tuesday, February 9, 11:00 AM - 12:30 PM, Room 386 LSC

Description: The Principles of Community were created to find a way to articulate the expectations CSU has for its community. The principles outline how we want to come together and continue to instill a culture of diversity and inclusion.

Mary Ontiveros, VP for Diversity, will share the work that went into creating these principles and invite participants to talk about how we take the principles from the page and begin to implement them in our day to day interactions.

Introduction to Innovation for Emerging Leaders
Tuesday, April 5, 2016 - 1:00 AM - 12:30 PM, Grey Rock Room, LSC

Description: As an emerging leader, you already know how important it is to innovate in an ever changing work environment. But how can you make an immediate (and noticeable!) impact in your current work environment? Whether you are an individual contributor, part of a team, or leading a team, this session is designed to help you map the current innovative work happening in your immediate sphere of influence, to give you some hands-on tools that you can apply immediately, and ultimately strengthen your own capacity for creating innovations that translate into continual improvements at work.

Presented by Claire Pettner, Director of Student Success & Engagement at CSU Online.
